
AEAD measurements are reference controls, not implementations or attacks against the six source ciphers.